PERSPECTIVE OF PHILOSOPHY OF HUMAN NATURE

SPCC CALOOCAN

Partial Perspective	Holistic Perspective

PARTIAL PERSPECTIVE

IN PHILOSOPHY, human person is viewed as a collection of parts and studied on a piecemeal basis with one part distinct and independent of the other parts.

This means that human nature can only be understood solely in terms of the functioning of its component parts.

HOLISTIC PERSPECTIVE

IN PHILOSOPHY, the human nature is seen on the whole aspect of our perspective (holistic perspective).

This means that the human person is seen as a whole or its entire functioning system, not as a collection of parts, thus, their functioning cannot be fully understood solely in terms of their component parts.

LET'S GO BACK TO THE PAST!

- Think an experience that shows how you used partial and holistic perspective.
